

THE GOLDWORK GUILD

To encourage, teach and keep alive, the art of Goldwork in all its forms

All are welcome, whether absolute beginner or expert, from the designer to those wanting to learn more. The annual Membership includes the Guild's magazine, which is published twice yearly. All back issues of the Partworks and magazines are currently available and are filled with various articles on the history of goldwork, techniques, tips, equipment, reference material etc. The Guild also organises visits to museums and other places of interests and hold meetings where members can meet, attempt various challenges and purchase materials for their own projects.

The founder of the Guild is Janice Williams, who trained at the Royal School of Needlework. She has taught textiles in schools and lectured at the College of Education in Gloucester. Throughout her life Janice has been a practising craftperson, and has work recorded in the Crafts Council Index of Selected Craftsmen.

If you are interested in joining, please fill out the form below and post, with the relevant payment to the address quoted. To enquire about previous publications [Issues 1 – 18 of the Partworks and past magazines] please contact Janice Williams directly. Janice's contact details can be found on our website:- <http://www.thegoldworkguild.com>.
